

DAILY BLADE

Issue 1

AUGUST 13, 2006

Col. Joel Mjolsness, Commander 6045th, conducts daily Battle Update Brief as plans continue to be developed and refined.

Pacific Survivor Soldiers,

Welcome to Pacific Survivor 2006. Pacific Survivor is an exercise to train Soldiers in the following events: Convoy Operations, Selected Warrior Training Tasks, Qualification with Individual Weapons, Familiarization with Crew Served Weapons, Land Navigation, Field Survival Skills, Law of Land Warfare and Cultural Awareness.

The following information is provided to assist in preparation for your participation in Pacific Survivor:

First and foremost, safety is the primary focus for all soldiers during Pacific Survivor: temperatures during August at Fort Hunter Liggett can exceed 100 degrees and there is the potential for significant heat related injuries.

For emergencies such as missed flights or bus connection during travel enroute, you are to contact the Pacific Survivor Liaison at (831) 386-3302/3304/3306.

Military ID, one copy of orders, and travel itinerary will be hand carried as they are needed during your initial in-processing.

A no alcohol policy will be in place for the entire exercise.

Today's Weather

Fort Hunter Liggett	Baghdad, Iraq
89	102
Humidity	Humidity
32	24
source: www.weather.com

No personal weapons are authorized on Fort Hunter Liggett.

No POVs are authorized for use while you are on Ft Hunter Liggett. If you have a POV authorized for travel to and from FHL, be aware that POV's will not be used during the exercise.

No off post passes will be issued.

Be advised the Ft Hunter Liggett PX has a limited selection of merchandise.

The approved Pacific Survivor packing list is attached.

We look forward to your participation in a challenging, safe and rewarding exercise.

"One Team, One Fight"

JOEL C MJOLSNESS
COL, IN
COMMANDING
(7-20 AUG 06)

SAMUEL L FRIAR
COL, QM
COMMANDING
(20-27 AUG 06)